

EL PASO SHIPPERS WORRIED AT MOVE TO FORM NEW GROUP

Do Not Want To Be Classed
With New Mexico.

POSSIBLE CHANGE IN RATE
MAKING TO THE SOUTHWEST.

A movement is on among the various railroads entering El Paso to take this city out of the Rio Grande crossing group in which it is now classed, and on the basis of which freight rates are made to this city and placed in a new group to be composed of New Mexico towns, says the El Paso Herald.

In letting the fact be known to a few shippers, the railroad men who are favoring the move, declared that it was in the interest of stability of rates, and of uniform publication of tariffs, but a few business men are not inclined to accept this roseate view offered by the railroads and believe there is something sinister for El Paso.

It is proposed to place El Paso in a group to be composed of Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Deming and other cities, and take it out of the group in which it gets the same rate which applies to Eagle Pass and Lordsburg.

There would be no objection to this were it really for the purpose or rather in the interest of "stability of rates." But business men are inclined to believe that this high sounding term has something ominous behind it and some ulterior motive other than "stability."

The Chamber of Commerce does not look with any degree of complacency upon the proposed change. The members say they are satisfied to remain in the Rio Grande crossing group. The committee, consisting of E. Meyer, J. A. Happer and W. S. Tilton, which was appointed at the special meeting of the board of directors held Saturday to consider the proposition, will report at the regular meeting of the board tonight and it is probable that some action will be taken regarding the proposed change.

The movement is one which will be anxiously watched by all shippers.

Time-Saving the Great End.

Just to save time—that is the headline of a new newspaper story the other day, remarked a local railroad man. "The article told of the Santa Fe's expenditure of $10,000,000 on the Belen cut-off for the purpose of clipping eight or nine hours from the running time between Chicago and San Francisco."

"The inference seemed to be that the saving of time is a rather unusual object, or that the Santa Fe is breaking all precedents in making so stupendous an effort to secure the speediest route across the continent."

"Savings time is no mean object for the outlay of money. Time is money, and the road that can save the most of it to a man is the one that will land him in the fastest time."

"True, the Santa Fe Belen cut-off surpasses in magnitude almost any single time-saving device, but every road on the continent is constantly doing something of the sort on a smaller scale. A bend is eliminated here, a steep grade there or a circuitous route somewhere else."

"The eighteen-mile train between New York and Chicago is another example of what time-saving means, except that in that instance the result is accomplished more by the finest greyhound equipment, the swiftest men and the strictest attention to economy of time by construction operations."

"The Santa Fe is doing a big piece of work, but it has a big reward in store for it. The mail contracts are only one of the objects in view. The railroad did not neglect the business end of the proposition—that's a safe wager."

To Cut the Grades.

Reports are to the effect that the management of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific has decided to practically rebuild the entire system, with a view of securing minimum grades on every division. The work has been entrusted to J. B. Berry, the new chief engineer for the road.

Proud Success.

Too proud to accept a position on the Santa Fe railroad where his brother, E. F. Kenna has long been first vice president, John Kenna seriously hurt at Burnham, Colorado, Saturday, while working with a section gang on the Denver & Rio Grande. When removed to St. Joseph hospital, an examination of his terribly crushed left foot and leg led the doctors to believe that the accident, because of his age, 64 years, will result fatally.

For several months Kenna has been assistant foreman of the section crew working on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad near Burnham. He attempted to cross the tracks in front of a slender engine, but was careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will get a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all druggists.

If you need a carpenter, telephone Jesselden.

The holiday rates will be one and one-third fare to all points via Santa Fe Route. Call at ticket office and get particulars.
